Share Your Story!

While the book was only able to capture a handful of our collective achievements, we are hoping that our new website

www.hku.hk/alumni/profile

will provide a forum to share your story and the unique contributions you have made. Whether a recent graduate or old time alumni, it is only with your help that we can begin to document and share the impact that we as a whole have made, and will continue to make, on Hong Kong and the World around us. The strength of our alumni community is in all of our hands. With your support we look forward to building a repository of alumni profiles deserving of your contribution.
